PRICE ONE CENT.

TO HAVE WOMAN'S DAY EARLY MORNING MURDER

Women of the City to Make Big Drive in Sale of Liberty Bonds—Fathers Please Take Note.

Tomorrow—Saturday—will be Woman's Day in Alexandria. Mother is going to be "on the job" selling Liberty Loan bonds, and if father won't help he'll be asked to buy.

In fact, he will be asked to buy anyhow, because it is his DUTY. He won't be asked to give away a cent. But mother and the girls are going to ask him to LEND his money to Uncle Sam at FOUR PER CENT INTEREST, in order to help win the war, and they will expect him to dig down in his pocket and comply with the request.

And if father doesn't do his duty he will find that life for him during the next eight days will be just one girl after another after him.

And, by the way, the women of Alexandria set the men an example in buying the first Liberty bonds they should not forget. They bought thirty per cent of the amount sold here of that issue, and from the looks of things they are going to beat even that record in purchasing the second issue.

For instance, here is a fine example, set by Mrs. Daniel Webster of Rosemont, who has just bought $300 worth of them.

Isn't it about time us men woke up?

Every woman who has bought a bond is requested to wear her button on Saturday, denoting the fact.

And every man who hasn't bought, should get busy. Remember, you are not giving, but simply LENDING your money.

Announcement of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Secretary McAdoo yesterday authorized the following statement:

One. The four per cent Liberty Bonds are exempt from all state and local taxes except estate or inheritance taxes.

Two. They are exempt from United States normal income taxes and from all other United States taxes except estate or inheritance taxes and except income surtaxes, excess profits and war profits taxes.

Three. The interest on five thousand dollar principal amount of bonds and certificates owned by any individual partnership association or corporation is exempt from all United States taxes except estate or inheritance taxes; This is true though their total holdings exceed five thousand dollars. In case of holdings by trustees each beneficiary is entitled to independent exemption of the interest on five thousand dollars principal amount held in trust for him even though the trustee is identical if the trusts be separate. In case of families the wife and each child if the actual owner are entitled to independent exemption of the interest on five thousand dollars principal amount so owned.

FOUR—No ownership certificate or other so called information at the source will be required under the War Revenue Act in connection with the payment of the interest on these bonds whatever the amount.

FIVE—Undistributed income invested in these bonds is not subject to the additional tax imposed by that Act upon undistributed income. The foregoing statements apply to the four per cent Liberty Bonds now offered for subscription and also to those issuable upon conversion of the three and one half per cent Liberty Bonds.

SNOW IN THE WEST.

Railroad Traffic in North Dakota Seriously Hampered.

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 19.—Railroad traffic, telegraph and telephone communication in North Dakota was seriously hampered yesterday as a result of the snowfall, which started last midnight and which was falling heavily yesterday, whipped by a strong wind. Trains were reported from 4 to 12 hours late.

The shortage of coal in some cities was declared to be acute.

Crookston, Minn., Oct. 19.—More than 6 inches of snow has fallen here since Wednesday night, which is being whipped into drifts by a brisk wind.

Amarillo, Texas, Oct. 19.—Snow fell here for three hours yesterday morning. It quickly melted.

Man Enters Woman's Room and Puts Bullet in Her Neck as She Was Dressing.

A man is dead and a young woman is lying on a cot at Emergency Hospital, facing death as the sequel to a quarrel and shooting affray in the woman's apartment early this morning in the Astoria, Third and G streets northwest, Washington.

The dead man is William Johnson, twenty-six years old, who turned a revolver on himself after he had shot and perhaps fatally wounded Nina Hinton, twenty-five, a pretty hotel employe, following a quarrel early today.

"He came into my room as I was dressing, a few minutes after 7 o'clock, and shot me," sobbed the woman through the bandages that cover a dangerous wound in her face, to Detective Howard Vermillion.

"He came from his room, which was next to mine and started a quarrel. He shot me because he was jealous and mad."

Miss Hinton was employed at the Lafayette Hotel as a checker. Johnson has worked at the Union Station, but quit his job recently and had not been employed for some weeks.

Fitzsimmons Fights for Life.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Old Bob Fitzsimmons, the greatest boxer of all time, was on the verge of a knockout today in the biggest fight of his career—a battle with death.

The old ring hero, whom hook and appetizer failed to stop, was slowly taking the count from pneumonia—"only a question of hours," the doctors said.

All hope that Fitz might weather the attack as he had stalled through storms of blows by courage and cunning in the past had been abandoned by every one—every one except the ancient gladiator himself.

"I'll win out—if they'll let me alone," panted Fitz weakly at Michael Reese Hospital early today. "I've got a fighting chance—it's all I want."

UNDERSEA BOATS.

Operating in Pairs off the Beaten Path Miles off England and France.

Germany's giant pirate U-boats are now robbing food ships of their cargoes, stowing these within the submarine hold and then sinking the unfortunate victims—spurious verisimilitude.

This is the newest development of ruthless undersea warfare, according to confidential embassy reports today. Using new 1,500-ton vessels, apparently in pairs, the Germans are operating off the beaten track, apparently several hundred miles out side the old danger zone around Great Britain and France.

ARREST COAL MINERS.

Ten in Pennsylvania Charged With Holding up Production.

Indiana, Pa., Oct. 19.—Ten striking miners of the Armerford Coal Company were arrested yesterday by the sheriff of Indiana county and troopers of the State Constabulary technically charged with "holding up the production of coal," according to information which reached here this afternoon from Armerford, Pa.

One hundred employees of the company went out early in the day, their leaders explaining that they "were tired waiting on Garfield as the company had promised, they said, an increase in wages to be based on what Harry A. Garfield, fuel administrator, believed they should have."

The men are members of the United Mineworkers, of whom there are 42,000 in this district.

The Navy Department yesterday received a telegram from New York that the U-C-5, a 114 ton German submarine captured by the British in the North Sea, had arrived there on board a steamer. It was loaned to this country by the British admiralty for use in the liberty loan campaign. It will be assembled by American officers and set up in Central Park for the Metropolis to gaze upon.

The Allison W. C. T. U. will hold a cake sale Saturday morning at Brawner's store, 700 King street.

Alexandria City and Suburbs

The ladies in charge of the work in Alexandria for the Food Pledge Campaign, beginning on Sunday, October 21 and continuing until October 28th, will make an effort to enlist every housekeeper in the city to help in saving every ounce of food possible. This, they say, does not mean that people are expected to be "stingy," so to speak, in providing their families with eatables, but simply not to waste food through preparing more than is necessary. It is stated that an effort will be made to have the matter brought before the several church congregations on Sunday by the clergymen in order to assist in bringing it to the attention of the people generally.

On Tuesday next, Oct. 23d, the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Virginia will convene in the Masonic Temple at Richmond. Among members of the craft who will attend from this city will be the representatives from Mount Vernon Chapter who are: C. P. Heishley, high priest; Chester A. Gwynn, king; Percy E. Clift, scribe; James E. Alexander, assistant grand lecturer, and J. E. W. Timberman, grand high priest of the state. On Wednesday evening will occur the annual election of officers. It is expected that James Bowman, of Roanoke, the present grand king, will be elevated to the office of grand high priest in conformity to the usual custom.

RUSSIAN FLEET BOTTLED UP.

Strength of Slav Squadron Trapped in Moon Sound is Not Known.

London, Oct. 19.—Twenty Russian warships are hopelessly trapped in the southern half of the Narrow Moon Sund which separates the little island of that name from the Russian mainland some 200 miles north of where the German and Russian flanks face each other above Riga.

An official statement from Petrograd tells of the defeat of a Russian squadron in the Riga Gulf at the hands of a German fleet many times its superior.

It admits the loss of the old type battleship Slava, 13,516 tons, and the complete capture by the Germans of Oesel Island. Most of the Slava's crew were saved. All military works on Oesel were destroyed before the heroic remnant of the garrison abandoned it.

News of the trapping of the twenty Russian warships came from the Berlin Admiralty. Ten thousand prisoners and fifty guns were taken on Oesel Island, Berlin reported.

HOLLAND WOULD GIVE SUGAR.

Hopes to Lighten Embargo Against Her by Recent Offer.

Pressing every advantage to lighten the United States embargo against her, Holland yesterday offered the United States many million tons of sugar, owned by the Dutch in New York, and held in various Dutch colonies. The offer was made as soon as Herbert Hoover took official cognizance of the sugar shortage in this country and on the same day that the War Trade Board announced that export licenses will be required for every shipment of sugar out of this country.

It followed immediately on the heels of an offer of Dutch shipping for use in allied trade so long as the vessels are kept out of the war zone. This offer tendered a certain number of ships to be used in the coastwise trade of the United States and even permitting them to be used in the Pacific to carry Russian war supplies to Vladivostok.

The consideration attached to each offer, however, was the release of supplies from the United States for Holland. It can be stated authoritatively that the offers will not be accepted until the War Trade Board and Herbert Hoover are satisfied that Dutch supplies will not leak into Germany.

WILL SAVE THE POOR.

Government Will Seize Coal in Chicago to Prevent Needy From Freezing.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Federal power to seize coal in Chicago will be invoked to save the poor from freezing in event of a coal famine.

John E. Williams, Illinois fuel administrator received instructions for emergency action from National Administrator Garfield yesterday. The telegram revealed plans for "enforced equitable distribution" in case of fuel distress. Under that plan the capacious bins of coal users with their winters supply laid, could be invaded for the benefit of the poor, it is believed.

Williams refused to make public the text of the Garfield order. He said he would keep in constant touch with Washington and await further orders if the situation became more serious.

Commissioner N. H. Kendall, of the Chicago Coal Merchant's Association, has disclosed the seriousness of Chicago's plight by a canvass of the dealers yards which shows that practically all will be stripped by to night.

"Many of them are cleaned out now because the situation was bad even before the strike," Kendall said. "The little Indiana coal now available will be gone in another twenty-four hours."

Reports in Chicago from Terre Haute state that more Indiana strikers joined the walkout yesterday and that others are expected to join them Friday and Saturday. By Monday, however, officials at the State headquarters of the United Mine Workers said today, there might by some action looking toward an alleviation of the situation.

PRESSURE WILL BE USED.

Retailer Must Deliver Food at Reasonable Prices.

If the retailer does not deliver the nation's food at a reasonable price, means will be found to make him do so. This, summed up, expresses the attitude of Food Administrator Herbert C. Hoover in announcing last night, that subject to co-operation of the farmer and the retailer, the corner has now been turned in high prices.

"Most of the essential commodities should, one after another, continue to show reductions between now and the end of the year," Mr. Hoover said in a formal statement for the Food Administration. The Food Administration has control of neither the grower or his organization, nor of the great majority of retailers.

"The distribution chain lying between, that is the warehouse, wholesaler, commission men and manufacturer of price commodities, has required a great deal of study and development for its proper regulation, and these regulations are now coming into force."

Mrs. M. D. Hall has gone to Raleigh, North Carolina.

MUTINY IN NAVIES.

Austrians and Germans Clash at the Naval Base Near Pola.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Mutiny has broken out in the Austrian navy as well as in the German. In addition, clashes of a serious nature have occurred between German and Austrian officers and sailors at the naval base at Pola. So high was the feeling between the Austrian sailors and the German submarine crews at Pola that the Austrian command moved the Germans to another base in the Southern Adriatic.

This information contained in official dispatches from Rome, which included the further verified statement that as a result of the Pola incident a serious controversy had arisen between the Austrian and German high commands, made a profound impression on naval authorities here. Especially was this so when the Austrian troubles were considered in relation to the Wilhelmshaven mutiny in the German navy and the more serious mutiny among German sailors who refused to go out in submarines, reported unofficially yesterday.

The trouble among the Austrian sailors is said to have been caused by bad food and harsh treatment by the officers.

Amsterdam, Oct. 19.—Mutinous German sailors have struck the severest blow to the German submarine menace where it has been most perilous and most efficacious on the Belgian coast.

At the Picture Theatres.

A feminist in society is the role played by Mme. Petrova in "The Silence Sellers," the Metro Wonder-play adapted from Blair Hall's story in "Snappy Stories," which will be seen at the Richmond Theatre tonight. Mme. Petrova demonstrates as Laura Sutphen in this production that even a society woman, who does not need to earn her living, may be capable of the brilliance, the ability to cope with a situation that are expected from the latter day feminist. In the nick of time, Laura saves the reputation of her best friend, and gives her fiancé the aid that turns defeat into success.

Bryant Washburn will be seen in "A Final Fraud" at the Surprise tonight in conjunction with "The Girl From Frisco," and a Vim comedy, "Terrible Kate."

FOOD CONSERVATION TO VISIT ALEXANDRIA

Eight Ways to Save Flour Which the Housewives of Alexandria are Asked to Observe.

Much emphasis has been placed on the world's shortage of wheat and the necessity of our saving as much as possible for export to the Allies. "Why save wheat?" is the first natural question of the public; HOW to save it is the second.

There is a world shortage of wheat. France, England and Italy have experienced a crop reduction; Russia's supply cannot be transported to Western Europe; South America reports a shortage and the Australian crop is practically cut off because of the long journey and the reduced shipping accommodations. This situation requires that the United States make a supreme effort to save wheat for the Allies for they must have wheat to add to other grains in making their war bread.

But what is the value of the individual saving of a pound per week? This is the answer: "If each person saves weekly one pound of wheat flour, that means 150,000,000 more bushels of wheat for the Allies to mix in their bread."

If it is so essential for each of us to render this service to our friends abroad how are we to save out a pound of wheat flour each week? The following shows right easy ways. If there are crumbs of crusts left over, chop them up for a tasty dish. But there should be no left overs if the conservation plan is carried out. Put the loaf of bread on the table and cut each slice as needed. To stack the bread plate results in stale slices or in actual waste when hungry Tommie forgets that his eyes are usually bigger than his stomach. If bread is ordered 24 hours in advance, the baker or grocer will not have to keep on reserve more than is needed and whole loaves of bread will be saved. These are general ways of providing against waste.

The use of other foods or other cereals will permit the wheat to go directly from the granary to the army or navy storehouse.

The following suggestions are made vivid by displays of actual and attractively made artificial foods.

For breakfast, oatmeal and corn flakes are attractive, palatable dishes to use instead of wheat, while corn muffins or corn bread are welcome with sirup or with more substantial dishes.

"Emergency bread," composed of wheat flour mixed with another meal or flour should be used in lieu of white bread. It saves from one-fifth to one-third of the amount of wheat flour usually employed.

With a large meal, no bread is necessary. Potatoes, corn and other vegetables gives the same food equivalents and are far more plentiful than the wheat. For the dessert, rice pudding, fruit and other well known preparations are pleasing exchanges for wheat and are more beneficial than cake and pastry from the health standpoint.

TO TRY DASH FOR SEA.

Superior German Ships Will Attempt and Keep Slavs Bottled up in Gulf of Riga.

Copenhagen, Oct. 19.—A big naval battle for the control of the Baltic is imminent.

A large section of the Russian Baltic fleet, which took refuge in Kassar bay after the Russian battleship Slava was sunk in Moon sound, is preparing to make a dash past the German men of war guarding the western entrance, according to a dispatch from Petrograd today, dated Thursday night.

In the Russian fleet, it was reported, are between eighteen and twenty-two ships, including battleships, cruisers, gunboats, torpedo boats, and submarines.

Killed in Collision.

Denton, Md., Oct. 19.—Harold Fountain, 23 years old, son of William R. Fountain, near Concord, was fatally injured near Bethlehem Wednesday night. He was accompanied by a young man named Messer on a motorcycle with a side car, and ran into a wagon on the state road between Dover bridge and Bethlehem. Fountain's leg and arm were broken, and he was injured internally. He was hurried to Eastern Hospital, where he died this morning.

Prominent Salvation Army Workers From New York and Baltimore to Hold Meeting Tomorrow Night.

Colonel John E. Margetts, of the National Salvation Army headquarters in New York city, and Brigadier Wm. Escott, of Baltimore, are expected here to take part in the meeting of the local branch of the army tomorrow night.

Col. John E. Margetts.

Colonel Margetts is an officer of many years experience, having entered the service 36 years ago, and has risen in the ranks by sheer hard work and a devotion for the cause for which the Salvation Army was founded—a desire to reach the unchurched.

Previous to coming to this country Colonel Margetts was engaged in the Army work in Canada, and served there under Commander Miss Booth. He has successfully held various positions of significant importance, ranging from Principal of the Army's Training School in Canada to that of Territorial Secretary, and following the oversight of army work in Minnesota, Wisconsin, the Dakotas, and part of Illinois came to his present command about fifteen years ago. From that time till now he has seen amazing advances and developments in the Young People's side of the army work, and the many and varied activities now in progress among the Young People are the direct result of Colonel Margetts' enterprise and effort.

Among the more recently organized activities under his jurisdiction are the Life Saving Scouts and the Life Saving Guards, two scouting organizations for young men and women respectively, which have for their slogan: "Save the body, the mind, the soul and others."

The visit of Colonel Margetts to Alexandria is chiefly in connection with the inspection and advancement of the Young People's work.

1,500,000 PAIRS OF BOOTS

Russian Army Places Huge Order Involving $7,500,000.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Contracts were awarded here yesterday for 1,500,000 pairs of boots for the Russian Army at a total cost of $7,500,000. The awards were made by members of the Russian purchasing commission, advised by the Committee on Supplies of the Council of National Defense.

These contracts with those placed by the War Department for the American armies, make the enormous total of 8,400,000 pairs of footwear which have been placed within the past week.

MICHAELIS TO FALL.

New Reports of Rupture Come From German Capital.

Amsterdam, Oct. 19.—Germany's shrewdest and most popular diplomat, former Chancellor Prince von Buelow, has suddenly returned to Berlin after three years of almost uninterrupted stay in Switzerland. Immediately upon his arrival in the capital German political circles hit upon the guess that the prince is to be on hand when Dr. Michaelis falls, as fall he must if the present general hostility to him is maintained.

Five men were killed and one young woman was injured in a series of motor vehicle accidents near Baltimore on Wednesday night. A Pennsylvania flyer struck a small auto truck at Severn Station and three men were killed. A motorcyclist, with a woman in the sidecar attachment to the machine, was killed when the vehicle went over an embankment on the York road, near Cockeysville. A motorcyclist on the Eastern Shore crashed into a farm wagon and was killed.

LESSONS OF OBEDIENCE.

We notice that some of our exchanges print at the close of each week the International Sunday school lesson for the next Sunday, giving sidelights upon the same and other interesting and instructive reading.

We have often thought that while much of the time of Sunday schools recently has been devoted to the singing of patriotic hymns and listening to addresses upon America's free institution, etc., all of which are good in their places, that at this critical juncture in the world's history a lesson on obedience would be in order, and while it would be intended for the younger generation which is destined to take the places of those now conducting the world's affairs, it would also prove meat in due season to many of their elders.

The spirit of rebellion seems to be spreading over the earth. Men, for one reason or another, quit work and refuse to obey not only those employing them, but officials of organizations to which they belong, thus bringing on high prices, distress and inconveniences to thousands of innocent persons.

Children naturally are men, and they, too, often refuse to obey those over them. Disobedience to parents is a sin often mentioned in the scriptures, and it is a species of departure from the Creator which is not only condemned but curses are pronounced upon those who refuse to follow the teachings of parents. The reason should be apparent: so long as parents set the proper example and teach their offspring to lead Christian lives, they stand in the place of God, and any disobedience of them is as though the Creator were treated with contempt.

When King Saul disobeyed God in his incursion on the Amalekites, the Prophet Samuel told him that "rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry."

Many passages from the New Testament could be quoted to show that the young should obey their elders, and when we read of the disgraceful procedures of school children, who had the temerity to fight the police in New York yesterday, and to attempt to wreck school buildings, we naturally wonder with all our lavish expenditure in the way of public education if the vital truths of the Bible are being imparted to the rising generation.

FACING GRAVE CONDITIONS.

The official announcement received in Washington of clashes between German and Austrian sailors and mutinies on ships of the Central Powers in the Adriatic, following, as they do, closely in the wake of similar proceedings upon the part of Teuton sailors at the Belgian port of Ostend who refused to go on board submarines, shows that the mailed fist is not as terrifying as it was a few years ago. As a Washington paper of today says, war-weariness, hunger, emulation of Russian revolutionaries—all these things are perhaps involved in the first big crack in the German military and naval machine. It shows the iron discipline is breaking down. It shows men are beginning to dare to rebel. And, singularly enough, this first outbreak occurred not among those who have endured the terrors of trench fighting, but among sailors idle at Wilhelmshaven. The mutinous conditions apparent on at least four big German battleships must exist, even if in milder form, elsewhere. The fact that while savage reprisals were ordered by the Kaiser, the chancellor did not dare obey his royal master, testifies to the dangerous mood of the men, and perhaps of the nation.

At a socialist conference at Nuremberg recently Herr Hoch said that the patience and strength of the people in all countries were coming to an end and that the German government ought to understand that unless peace comes within a few weeks, revolutionary convulsions will arise from the masses.

Socialist party showed unanimity in the demand for a governmental declaration of the surrender of Belgium.

THE BOND OF FREEDOM.

A bond of fellowship and of mutual interest, a bond of Americanism and of patriotism unites the people of the country. That bond will have no value unless the country shall be preserved in its essential freedom. That freedom cannot be preserved unless the people of the country support the nation in its efforts to beat back the tide of autocracy that rose until it was in danger of engulfing all free institutions.

The papers of this country are donating entire pages and much space in editorial pages to the bond of freedom which is regarded as the strongest bond among men. The call of that bond is a call for the maximum of sacrifice. That is the call that is now being made. It is the call not simply of the government's certificates, but the call of the bond of democracy and of freedom. The form in which the call is made does not disguise, but lends emphasis to, the nature of the fundamental claim that the nation has upon its subjects.

That call must be heeded! The only way it can be heeded is by universal subscription to the Liberty Loan. The bonds that are waiting takers are bonds of liberty that will insure the continued freedom of the people. They are bonds that represent the might of the nation. They are bonds whose disposition involves the ultimate fate of every American. Give heed to the call of the bond and subscribed today!

A STRAINED ALLIANCE.

(Philadelphia Record)

As the story that Count Czernin will have no further correspondence with Chancellor Michaelis over peace negotiations because the Chancellor is evasive and vague and cannot be pinned down to one thing or another comes through a German newspaper, we presume it is safe to accept it. Some weeks ago a Vienna paper, controlled by an intimate friend of the Austrian Prime Minister, declared that Austria and Germany had different interests.

Such expression, as these indicate the strain to which the relations of the Dual Monarchy and Germany are subjected. Although Count Lerchold jauntily precipitated this war, he was egged on to it by Wilhelmstrasse, and Austria has far less interest in the war than Germany. Hungary has no interest whatever, and Bohemia and other more or less Slav portions of the Empire have the strongest interests adverse to it.

Besides this, the weight of war has fallen more heavily on the Dual Monarchy than on Germany. While the Russian armies were really fighting they penetrated far into Galicia, and even into Hungary. Austria could not protect its own borders. It was even defeated by the Serbians till Germany went to its rescue. On the west, Italy is advancing into Austrian territory, and Trieste, Pola and Fiume are in some danger. Austria-Hungary is not so rich as Germany and suffers more from the devastation of the war. And finally the possibility of the dismemberment of the heterogeneous State is never out of the minds of its statesmen.

The monarch under whom Austria entered the war is dead. The present monarch has no responsibility for the war, no pride or ambition involved in its prosecution, and his chief thought is how he can get out of it. To some extent honor binds him to Germany. To a greater extent fear of the German army binds him. He would like to seek a separate peace, but does not dare. His Minister for Foreign Affairs hit on the idea, afterward adopted by the German Reichstag, for peace without indemnities or annexations.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

The annual reunion of Mosby's men was held yesterday at Remington, Va., with a large crowd in attendance. There were present 55 remaining members of Mosby's command. Colonel Lee, of Fairfax, and Judge Alden Bell, of Culpeper, were speakers. Dr. W. S. Dunn, of Washington county, was elected commander and John Angelo of Washington, D. C., adjutant. The next meeting place was left to a committee. Steps were taken to erect a monument to the late Colonel John S. Mosby. Memorial services for Mrs. Thos. Fortune Ryan, who died Tuesday night in her country home at Suffern, N. Y., will be held next Thursday in Sacred Heart Cathedral, Richmond, when the Rt. Rev. Dennis J. O'Connell, D. D., bishop of the diocese of Richmond, will pay tribute to her. Bishop O'Connell will tell of Mrs. Ryan's gifts to Richmond and her philanthropic work in general.

Mrs. Mary Lou Swisher, aged about thirty-five years, wife of T. J. Swisher, of Naola, Amherst County, died Wednesday at the home of her aunt, Mrs. George Thornton, following the extraction of twenty-five teeth by a local dentist. Her death, according to the death certificate, was due to shock and hemorrhages following teeth extraction.

Yesterday in the Hastings Court of Petersburg, Louis Kelly and Charles W. Bowes, two young white soldiers from the camp at Newport News, were convicted of the theft of an automobile belonging to Dr. J. R. Beckwith. They abandoned the car near Fredericksburg and were arrested in Philadelphia.

Florence Kelly, a white woman about 20 years old, was run over and killed yesterday by an army motor truck on which she was riding, during the liberty loan parade at Newport News. She went to Newport News about three weeks ago from Greenville, Tenn., and took a job as a water boy at Camp Stuart. She has been living and working among the men there, but no one suspected that she was not a man. When taken to the hospital she was taken to the men's ward and an examination of her wounds revealed the fact that she was a woman.

A dispatch from Buenos Aires says Argentina will not break diplomatic relations with Germany, for the present at least.

SCHOOL CHILDREN IN RIOT

Gary System Has Now Become a Political Issue.

New York, Oct. 19.—Rioting by school children in protest against the Gary system of instruction in some of the city schools became so serious yesterday afternoon that reserves were summoned from three police stations and 50 branch detective bureaus.

Ten boys and one man were arrested during a forenoon demonstration in which the children, armed with stones and clubs and bottles, battled with the police and smashed windows at a number of schools in Harlem and the Bronx.

The man arrested, the police say, denounced the Gary system and urged the boys on to further disturbances.

This is the third day of the demonstrations against the Gary system, which, approved by Mayor Mitchell, is opposed, in the vocal political campaign by John F. Hyland, Democratic candidate for Mayor. Between four and five thousand boys and girls pupils, some joined by their mothers, paraded the streets near two Bronx school houses, yelling "Down with the Gary system," and caused so much disorder that the police reserves were called out.

Dispersed in front of one school, boy students armed themselves with sticks and stones, made signs reading "Down with the Gary system and Mitchell," and moved noisily on to other schools, where they tried to induce pupils to join them. Policemen who were summoned were stoned before they succeeded in frightening the boys away. Four lads, ranging in age from 11 to 15 years, were arrested.

Meanwhile a police inspector was being attacked with bricks, stones and milk bottles in front of another school where windows were smashed and other damage done. In this neighborhood a man who was observed urging the boys on and denouncing the Gary system was arrested.
